

EUROPEAN CENTRE FOR HUMAN RIGHTS TRAINING

General Information

Below you will find more information about the online courses and other services provided by the European Centre for Human Rights Training.

1. Each course comprises a block in English language and a second block in Dutch language.
2. The course comprises an explanation on how to navigate within the course. The modules in the course comprise a summary of the relevant facts and of the main principles at stake. The reasoning of the ECHR is analysed with a focus on relevance for legal practitioners. Special attention will be paid to new developments, questions answered by the ECHR or new problems arising from a judgment.
3. In the second block of a course (in Dutch) an analysis is added of the impact of the case on Dutch legal practice. These materials will only add a study on specific relevant elements for Dutch legal practice and do not comprise a translation of the English course.
3. ECHRT provides consultancy and advise for legal professionals in cases on human rights and/or migration law. Please do not hesitate to contact us for more information.
4. For training institutes: Please contact us if you wish to have a tailor made course for your own purposes. ECHRT provides consultancy on curriculum and programme development, online training tools and face to face training.
